Monet Also Wins for J. H. McCormick
--Canarsic Stakes a Gallop for Willie shields's Oaklawn-Keene's Regal

The spring meeting of the Queens County Jockey (lub wound up yesterday at Aqueduct with some good racing, coupled with the success of four favorites and a second choice, which enabled the form players in the crowd of 8,000 enthusiasts to clean up hand-somely in their battle with the books. J. H. McCormick won two races with Grenade and Grenade captured the Flushing Selling Stakes, for three-year-o'ds and upward, one mile. He was the choice all through the spec-ulation, closing at 3/10 2. The start was ragged, Jack Patlin beating the gate and holding the lead until he turned into the long homestretch, when he blew up. Then little J. Walsh, who had been following closely with the favorite, went to the front, but he was forced to a drive in the last sixteenth to win the race by three parts of a length from Peter Wimmer's Ocean Tide, 12 to 1, who was off poorly and then beat Sais, 6 to 1, by half a dozen lengths for second money. Sais, under the whip, had half a length over Consideration, a 30 to 1 shot. The mile was run in Willie Shields's invincible colt Oaklawn scared nearly all of the would be starters out of the (arnarsie Stakes, for two-year-olds, our furlongs, and then won all the way, Burns pulling him up at the end, where he had three parts of a length over Father Bill Daly's Veronese, a colt by Henry of Navarre -- Mount Vernon. The latter was the runner Brush, by Ben Brush—Innerdale, an added starter, by half a dozen lengths. Oak-lawn was at the prohibitive odds of 1 to 15, the midget, picking himself up, hobbled back and covered the half in 0:49.

Whorler, a 10 to 1 shot, made a runaway of the first race, for platers, seven furlongs, and breezed home with half a dozen lengths to spare in 1 27. Frank Farrell's King Popper, second choice, was the contender all the way and took the place in a drive by a head Wizard, 6 to 1. Arabo, the favorite, of at the start, was fourth, beaten three arts of at length.

Jimmy McCormick's Monet picked up 17 pounds in the handicap for three-yearolds and upward, six and a half furlongs, and hammered down to 13 to 10 favorite, ame home an easy winner by a length and to the head of the stretch, where Monet went to the front to stay. Rosetint, 8 to 5, second holice, was all out to beat Buttling, 4 to 1, a chance.

Tony Aste's Phyllis A., 3 to 1 favorite, showed her heels to a big field in the fifth race for two-year-olds, four and a half furlongs, but she was weakening at the end so that Kent drove her home a scant length before H. T. Griffin's Aviston, 10 to 1. Ethel layman, s to f, was two lengths away. August Belmont's Crossways, after unseating J. Johnson, for whom Sperling was substituted, was nowhere.

J. Johnson, for whom Sperling was substituted, was nowhere.

The hottest tip of the day was Phoebus, who was made an even money favorite in the last race for maiden three-year-olds, six furionss. He had early speed and looked the winner in the middle of the stretch but backed up and James R. Keene's Regal, second choice, beat him a leafth in a hard drive in 1:13 4-5. AUGUST BELMONT'S CROSSWAYS MICKS UP TROUBLE.

Throws One Jockey, Runs Away With Another and Burns Up a Lot of Money -Warfare Against Cavanagh Still On New Methods in Bidding Up Winners.

August Belmont's Crossways, a two-year old filly by Octagon-Lucy Cross, provided the sensation of the day at Aqueduct yesterday afternoon. She was tipped so widely that the crowd quickly backed her from a to i down to 2 to 2. As the big field emerged under the rails on one foot. The boy was so thoroughly frightened and shaken up that he could not get back into the saddle, so when the horses had been called back Sperling, who was able to make the weight, hustled into the Belmont silks and mounted the fractious filly with supreme confidence. Out came the borses again for the customary parade past the grandstand, but Crossways, who brought up the rear, was still unruly. She finally succeeded in hurling her new jockey to the ground, but Sperling, full of pluck, clambered back and hung on, too. Crossways kicked up her heels, whirled around like a ballet dancer and gave an excellent imitation of a bucking bronco, but Sperling clung to the peins with a vise-like grip. After a delay of five minutes the filly was turned in the opposite direction and a blow from a bull whip sent her hurrying up the backstretch, the longest way to the post. Meanwhile those who had backed the filly were disconsolate, for they knew full rell that their money had been burned up. when the race was started Crossways broke in front and ching to the pacemaker, Phyllis A., for a quarter of a mile, only to stop and finish in the ruck. Her dam, I vey Cross, was purchased by Mr. Belmont at the Marcus Daly sale for $17,000.

There was a small sized riot around the Western Union Telegraph office outside of the betting ring before the first race. A well known professional tipster had advertised in a morning paper that his "one won the fifth race. When Judge McDowel offered the filly at auction for $1,000, a new-comer on the turf named J. Goldberg raised the figures to $1,100. Aste protected the filly with the usual $5 advance, but Goldberg went on until he had boosted the price to $1,400. And five!" said Aste, who stood next to the rails.

"I raise that twenty-five!" exclaimed Goldbers. "What's that?" asked McDonnell in aston-ishment. The bid was repeated and aste

NEW YORK AMERICANS BEATEN & BY WASHINGTONS.

Good Opportunities to Win Go to Waste -Detroits Shut Out Clevelands and Take the Lead -Bestons and Browns Defeat Respective Opponents -- Scores.

The Detroits are now leading the American League. They shot out the Clevelands yesterday, Cleveland dropping to last place, as Boston disposed of Philadelphia. The New Yorks were beaten by Washington, and Chicago was easy for St. Louis, which team took third place away from New York. The results:

The New York Americans were beaten by the Washingtons yesterday in a game that was rich in opportunities for the losers, but ho in actuality were one run shy at the finish. Opportunity knocked not once, but twice, thrice and even four times at the New Yorks'door and loudly too, but in responding to the coquetting signals from Fortune, the New Yorks just fell short. True, Fortune buffeted them rudely once, the repulse being in the shape of a triple play by the Nationals. but even with this spurt squelcher the home team had good chances to win. The locals rallied strongly in the eighth and ninth nnings and battled gamely all through but the Washingtons repelled them with but the Washingtons repelled them with steady unyielding fielding.

Patten was hit freely by the New Yorks and squeezed out of a number of ticklish situations. Luck was with him through thick and thin. Puttmann was unsteady and was taken out after the fourth inning. Powell pitched admirably in the last five innings, but the shift of box men came too late. The New Yorkers were not as sure in their fielding as the Washingtons, but more brilliant. Keeler made two star catches, conroy gobbled foul flies with rare skill, and a double play by Dougherty, Eiberfeld and Conroy was really a more complicated and cleverly planned coup than Washingtons' triple play.

and cleverly planned coup than Washingtons triple play.

The day was raw and cloudy, but the attendance large and enthusiastic. Evidently Saturday's righting of Friday's fizzle has left pleasant impressions and created an additional amount of kindly feeling toward the American Leaguers. Puttnahn hit the first Washington batter, Jones, big Jones was doubled when till bainted himself out. Then Stahl let go with a triple, which however, was energy gone to waste, as Huelsman stuck out.

ever, was energy gone to waste, as Huelsman stuck out.

In the second inning the New Yorks scored once. Anderson hit to left, Huelsman booting the ball and converting a single into a double. Conroy sacrificed, and Young Mr. Chase, who fell down on three gorgeous chances to bat in runs, filed to Stahl, McGuire, a timely hitter or nothing, doubled to left, scoring Anderson. The Mashingtons took to bunting in the third and twisted the New Yorks up. Kittredge walked and went to third on Puttmann's wild throw of Patten's bunt. Jones bunted safely, and Kittredge tallied. Hill forced Patten at third. Stahl banged a corker to center which scored Jones, and Huelsman doubled, scoring fill. Stahl came in on Cassidy's fly to Dougherty. Elberfeld ran over in front of the plate and took Dougherty's throw-in, Huelsman trying for third on the play. Elberfeld's quick throw to Cobroy pinched Buelsman a neat play.

NEW YORK (N. L.), 5; PHILADELPHIA (N. L.), 4.
PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—On the basis of clean bitting New York should have defeated Philadelphia handily this afternoon, but through a combination of luck, stupid play at times on the part of the visitors, and a poor throw by Bresnahan, the Philadelphias a poor throw by Bresnahan, the Philadelphias were in the game to the finish, and but for Kid Gleason's failure to run out his bunt in the eighth the game would have been prolonged. The Philadelphias played a sharp fielding game, a fumble by Magee, which had no effect upon the score, being the only misplay made by them. There was a splendid crowd in attendance, 17,300 persons passing through the turnstiles, many of whom expected to see trouble. In this they were disappointed, for a milder set of athletes than the New Yorks the way they deported themselves to day never walked upon a ball field.

disappointed, for a milder set of attacted than the New Yorks—the way they deported themselves to day—never walked upon a ball field.

After the game, and while the New Yorks were on their way to their hotel, however, Pooger Bresnahan got into trouble. As the barouches turned into Broad street they were followed by the usual crowd of small boys, with the usual hooting and jeering which invariably follow the visiting clubaiter a game. The boys kept running after the carriages, and finally when nearing Dauphin street, the scene of the ambuscade on Saturday, one venturescope youngster picked up a handful of dirt and threw it into the barouche in which Bresnahan was seated. It struck the catcher squarely in the face. Forgetting himself for the time being, Bresnahan jumped out of the carriage and catching the boy gave his a rather vigorous slap. Both sides of Broad street at this time were thronged with people returning from the game. In a instant Bresnahan was surrounded by an infuriated crowd, and but for the fact that the police department anticipating trouble had sent an extra detail of 100 men to the grounds, the chances are that the catcher would have been roughly handled.

As it was, many members of the extra detail were walking down the street on their way to their respective station houses. They immediately surrounded Bresnahan, and protected him from the fury of the crowd. They took him down Broad street to Dauphin, and thence to a call box at Fifteenth street. Pending the arrival of the patrol wagon Bresnahan was taken into the grocery store at the corner. The crowd which had followed the officers and Bresnahan from Broad street was augmented by those returning from the game by way of Fifteenth street, and in less than a minute navigation on both York street and Eifteenth street, and in less than a minute navigation on both York street and Eifteenth street was tied up. For a while it looked as though Bresnahan would be taken from the officers, who were finally compelled to draw their guns to overawe the m wrecked. Finally one exceed that store, who had worked himself inside the store, made a pass at Bresnahan. The punch did not land, and the belligerent was promptly arrested and taken in the patrol wagon along with Bresnahan to the Twenty-sixth and York streets station house. Hundreds of persons chased the patrol wagon, firing potatoes, eggs and snything else that came handy at it, but fortunately it was one of those covered affairs and nobody was struck. Bresnahan was immediately released by the lieutenant, and thus came to an end the second storming of the New Yorks.

For his attack on Abbott McGann of the New Yorks has been suspended until May 3 and fined $100. For his participation in the affair Abbott has been suspended until April 28, and fined $50. The score:

TO-DAY'S CARD FOR JAMAICA. Good Field Named for the Exceisior Han-

Twelve horses have been named for the Excelsior Handicap, one mile and a sixteenth, to be run at Jamaica to-day. St. Valentine, because of his fast mile in 1:39:1-5 at Aqueduct on Saturday, will be in favor, together with Sydney Paget's Ormonde's Right, the winner of the Carter Handicap: William Lakeland's Little Em, who ran third in that event; E. E. Smathers's Rapid Water, beaten head by St. Valentine in the Queens County Handicap, and J. H. McCornick's Crown Prince. The Albemarle Stable's Santa Catalina is not expected to go the route. In the first race, a handicap for three-year-olds and upward, six furlongs, Toscan is asked to give weight to Goldsmith, Trapper and other fair sprinters. In the second race, for platers at a mile and seventy yards, Head Dance, Carbuncle and The Gadfly may do. Two-year-olds will run in the third race, do. Two-year-olds will run in the third race, four and a half furlongs, with Sydney Paget's Speedway, Newton Bennington's Green Koom and August Belmont's Tiptoe possibly the best. In the fith event, for platers, six furlongs, old England, Emergency, Girdle and The Hughenot are prominent, while a fair lot of maiden two-year olds are entered for the last event, four and a half furlongs. This program will open the spring meeting of the Metropolitan Jockey Club. The entries are as follows:

FIRST AUTO CHAMPIONSHIPS. National Body Decides to Run Its Own and Pocket Proceeds.

Heretofore championship automobile have been such merely on the say-so of promoters and the acquiescence of the public, the national governing body never having declared a championship race nor arranged for one. Now, however, the American Auto-mobile Association has arranged to hold national championship meeting, its first, 1 Morris Park, on July 2 and 4. The final transcements to this end were completed esterday. The meet will be run by the A. A. A. itself,

The meet will be run by the A. A. A. itself, through a special committee consisting of Robert Lee Morrell, A. R. Partination and A. G. Batchelder and the proceeds will go into the A. A. A. treasury, the tsrack being donated for the purpose by the Morris Park Motor Eacing Club.

The object of the national body in conducting its own championship meeting and taking the proceeds is to establish a fund for its work incread improvement and touring information.
